Looking at gas station blaze

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

MADISON — State and federal authorities are investigating a fire Thursday morning that destroyed the Madison Citgo gasoline station at Madison Avenue and Sixth Street.

More than a half-dozen investigators from the U.S. Treasury Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms were on the scene Thursday collecting evidence and sealing it in cans.

Members of the Madison fire and police departments were also on the scene, but Police Chief Charlie Bridick said the investigation was being run by the ATF "although obviously we are helping any way we can."

A spokesman for the ATF Law Enforcement Division said Friday that the evidence had been turned over to the state fire marshal for testing. He said it is ATF policy not to comment on whether the fire is of a suspicious origin until the laboratory results are returned and analyzed, a process he said would take several weeks.

The spokesman said the ATF entered the investigation at the request of the Madison Police Department. He said,

"We have jurisdiction over all fires that affect interstate commerce."

The ATF has been "actively interviewing witnesses," the spokesman said.

He asked that anyone with information about the fire call either the Madison police or the ATF.

Witnesses reported an explosion at the station, followed by a large cloud of smoke, at about 5:15 a.m. Thursday. The building was completely engulfed in flames when firefighters arrived minutes later.

The entire fire department was called out to fight the fire, which was brought under control in about an hour.

Fearing the possibility of further explosions, police blocked off the surrounding area, including Madison Avenue from Fifth to Eighth streets.

Neither the fire nor explosion involved the underground gasoline storage tanks.

Owner Jerry Maeras of Madison said the station, which was scheduled to open at 7 a.m., was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

"I came in seven days a week at about 6 a.m. to get the coffee started and get ready to open," Maeras said. "No one's there before that."

Madison, Venice agree

to combine some teams

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

MADISON — The Madison and Venice school districts are a step closer to a cooperative sports program that would feature athletes from both high schools participating on the same team.

The Madison School Board on Thursday evening adopted a cooperative sports agreement with the Venice district. The Venice School Board adopted the agreement Nov. 29.

It is designed to give student athletes the opportunity to participate in school sports that their district otherwise could not afford.

Venice students will be allowed to participate on the Madison football, girls basketball, and boys and girls track teams. Venice does not currently offer these programs.

Madison students will be entitled to play on the Venice baseball and softball teams, since Madison does not offer these programs. The boys basketball programs.

Program hopes to deter young arsonists

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — At age 5, Brad was already responsible for 100 fires.

By age 6, he had started 25 more fires.

In the past, there was very little firefighters did to deal with young arsonists like Brad.

"Before, all we could do was to bring them to the fire station, try to be friends with them, shake our finger at them for a while and hope that would work," said Capt. Robert Dawes of the Granite City Fire Department.

Dawes, juvenile fire-setter intervention officer for the department, explained Friday morning how that approach is changing.

About 35 police, school, justice and mental health representatives attended the workshop held at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Center.

"Every community has a problem with juvenile fire-setters," Dawes said, citing national statistics which show that juveniles make up 40 percent of all arson arrests.

Dawes said his department began trying to establish a juvenile program in March after running across information on it while forming an arson task force.

The national juvenile fire-setters program began in 1975 as a joint effort of the California State Psychological Association and fire departments, he

"Fire on the stove or in the water heater is good. Matches are a tool and children should learn that. If they're not a tool, they become a dangerous toy."

—Capt. Robert Dawes

said. In May 1980, the program had grown to include 77 workshops presented in 30 states.

Under the leadership of Fire Chief Jerry Wallace, the Granite City department is turning from a reactive to a proactive approach to fighting fires, Dawes said.

"Fire prevention is our job," Dawes said. "We should be spending 95 percent of our time trying to prevent the 5 percent of the time we're out running around (fighting fires)."

Dawes has already received letters of support for the program from Granite City School District 9 Superintendent Gilbert Wahmsley and from Phyllis Whitehead, director of Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County.

Dawes is currently seeking out grants available for the program and plans to approach the Madison County Firefighters Association for assistance.

He said he and two other firefighters are currently working to get the program off the ground, primarily targeting schools. Those efforts are made strictly on an off-duty, volunteer basis.

Through lectures, literature and films, Dawes hopes to minimize the problem.

But parents also can play a vital role by keeping matches and lighters away from their children and teaching them the difference between "good and bad fires," he said.

"Fire on the stove or in the water heater is good," Dawes said. "Matches are a tool and children should learn that. If they're not a tool, they become a dangerous toy."

Dawes said one way to keep younger children from starting fires is to make them a junior fire marshal, giving them the task of developing an emergency exit route and spotting potential fire hazards in their homes.

"Most of the time that works if you can get to them early," Dawes said.

Dawes said most children are naturally curious about fires — curiosity that can lead them to set a fire.

National figures for 1989 show that 38 percent of all children in grades one through eight have

Granite seeking overturn of

policemen's back pay award

GRANITE CITY — The city has asked a judge to overturn an arbitrator's decision to award back pay to two police sergeants for their time spent in court as defendants in a now-dismissed police test-cheating case.

In a suit filed last week in Madison County Court, the city is seeking release from the decision of Paul B. Grant, a labor arbitrator for the Illinois State Labor Relations Board to award Sgts. Jim Reader and Dave Rosenberg "court pay" for their time spent defending themselves against a charge they had cheated on a 1985 promotion examination. The case was dropped in August 1989.

Assistant City Attorney Sue Bacon said Friday the city is aware the police contract includes a clause making the decision of an arbitrator binding. But, she said, in the city's legal argument "our basis is not the contract." Bacon said the city can probably expect its action to result in another grievance being filed.

Bacon said further questions should be directed to Assistant City Attorney Ed Fitzhenry, who could not be reached for comment.

The two sergeants filed a grievance after the city refused to pay them "court pay," at a rate of time-and-a-half, for their time as defendants in the case.

Because, then-Police Chief Job Astorian said, "An officer who is the focus of a criminal investigation does not constitute a job-related case."

Grant ruled the test itself was "certainly" job-related and, by extension, matters going out of the

Former alderman may run again

GRANITE CITY — Sam Whitmer, an alderman for more than three decades, will try to serve at least four more.

Whitmer, 2321 State St., picked up nomination petitions from City Clerk Bob Stevens last week to run against Jim Miller, 2808 Cleveland Blvd., for 2nd Ward alderman in the April election.

In 1987, Miller defeated Whitmer with a 53-vote plurality in a four-way race. This is Miller's first re-election bid.

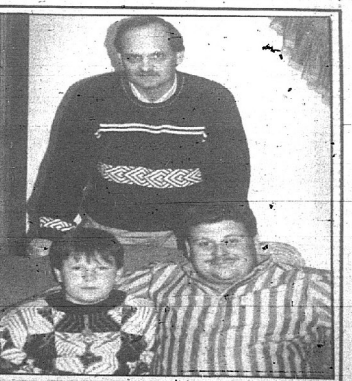

Based on petitions picked up this week, all incumbents apparently will have April challengers.

In the 3rd Ward, Paul Fisk, 2523 East 25th St., has picked up another challenger for alderman. Jerry Yeager, 2150 Adams St., obtained petitions Thursday from Stevens. Yeager, a manager at K mart, has been a spokesman in the city for landlord rights. John Bovinett, 2222 State St., picked up petitions for 3rd Ward alderman the previous week.

Also picking up petitions last week were:

State police deny racism in case

By Bob Slate

COLLINSVILLE — Jeremy Margolis, director of the Illinois State Police, admitted Thursday that "an erroneous conclusion was drawn" by a trooper in an investigation into the disappearance of a Hayti, Mo., family, later found to have been killed in a traffic accident.

But Margolis said the conclusion was justified by the perspective of the officer at the time.

Due to the erroneous conclusion, the victims were not found until three weeks after the error, he said.

"People make mistakes every day," Margolis said, adding that, from the trooper's viewpoint, the initial sighting of a car "appeared to be routine."

Illinois State Police officials on Thursday released, for the first time, information regarding the investigation of the disappearance of a Hayti, Mo., family, later found to have been killed in a traffic accident.

The Feltus family members had been last seen Oct. 2 preparing to return to Hayti in their 1983 Chevrolet 225i Camaro after visiting friends in Mount Vernon, Ill.

The car apparently was immersed in a river and not visible until late October, indicating that the lives would have been lost even if there had been no delay in police efforts. With the delay, the investigation was not concluded until Nov. 19.

The vehicle containing the accident victims was seen and reported to the State Police on three separate occasions in November, including once by a television crew.

The automobile and bodies were located 187 feet downstream from the southbound bridge over the Cache River on Interstate 57, near Ullin, Ill.

Groups including the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) have said they believe the investigation was not given high priority due to the fact that those missing were black and were from a low economic background.

The Illinois State Senate in late November adopted a resolution seeking a special committee to investigate possible misconduct on the part of the Department of State Police in the

Sen. Ralph Dunn, R-DuQuoin, a co-sponsor of the resolution, said, "The mishandling of this case is a disgrace. The friends and family of the victims had to suffer through more than a month of uncertainty and anxiety and they deserve an explanation. The public also has a right to know what happened and to be assured that this kind of misjudgment and lack of professionalism won't happen again."

The resolution must also be adopted by the House before a committee consisting of 12 members of the General Assembly and four members of the public could be created to hold hearings.

Margolis said an internal investigation into the matter is being conducted by his department's Internal Disciplinary Review Committee. He would not identify the officer being investigated except to say that he is "very, very experienced" and "very, very professional."

According to the police summary of the events, the vehicle that crashed Oct. 2 was first sighted Oct. 29 by the State Police as part of their search, long before it was noticed by the public.

The sighting by one trooper, who then was joined at the scene by a second trooper, occurred 24 days after the first missing persons call to State Police was received Oct. 5.

At the time of the first sighting, the two troopers thought the vehicle was not the Feltus car, after viewing it through field glasses from a short distance. The summary says only a small portion of the top of the vehicle was visible, and brown leaves surrounded the car.

The report says the troopers concluded the vehicle was a brown, rusty Ford product, not a white Chevrolet. Since there were no visible marks on the river bank, on nearby trees, on guard rails or on the bridge, the officers decided further that the vehicle had been at the location for a long period.

"Because the car appeared to be a derelict vehicle on private property, no written report was made at the time," the summary states.

Three more sightings of the vehicle occurred before the police returned to the scene.

The summary says that, at 7:50 p.m. Nov. 15, Chief Barry McKay of the Hayti Police Department notified Illinois State Police of the location of the same vehicle. Two troopers reported that the car had already been checked out, with negative results. The location was not rechecked.

At noon Nov. 16, a Missouri Highway Patrol helicopter landed at Illinois State Police District 22 headquarters and an MIP lieutenant informed Illinois State Police officers he had spotted the vehicle in the Cache River. He, too, was told the car had previously been checked. The site was not rechecked.

The report fails to mention that the same wreck was also seen from a helicopter when a St. Louis television station, KMOV Channel 4, conducted its own search for the Feltus. Illinois officers did not follow up at that time, either.

Finally, on Nov. 19, Illinois State Police rechecked the Cache River site, discovering the bodies of Ruby Feltus, Thyrus Feltus and Carmeline Stevenson in the vehicle.

The body of Madeline Green was recovered from the river Nov. 24.

Margolis said that, while reports are still not final, "The evidence indicates...they were going too fast, they drove off the road, lost control of the vehicle, became airborne, and they died on impact."

No foul play is suspected, he said.

Margolis said the elevation gauge on the Cache river was recorded at 319 feet above sea level Oct. 2, rose 8.5 feet Oct. 4, and gradually receded to a level of 320.4 feet on Oct. 29, when the vehicle was first sighted.

He claimed the car was not visible prior to its first sighting. When asked why there was no underwater search upon first sighting the car, Margolis said troopers were searching every mile of highway between Mount Vernon and Hayti after the first report was received Oct. 5. He added that the location of the vehicle, 187 feet from the bridge, made it difficult to identify.

He said the scene "appeared to be routine" to the investigating officer.

Margolis characterized any claims that delays in the investigation were racially motivated as "absolutely, totally untrue."

He said the police seek to "serve all people, and serve all people as well as we can."

"Race had nothing to do with it," Margolis said.

He added that he had "no indication the Feltus family is unhappy with the investigation," referring to James Feltus and Gloria Jenkins, the two surviving children of Rose Feltus.

It is suggested young children bring along a list with the names and ages of the people for which gifts are to be bought in order to speed up the shopping and guarantee satisfaction. Parents are asked to wait while their children shop, but are not allowed to assist them.

The bazaar will begin at 3 p.m. and last until either everything is sold or 5 p.m.

"The board is very grateful and the grant money will be put to good use," Griggs said. "The library plans to purchase a new and larger copy machine, a book return box, computer supplies and programs, new books and more periodicals."

Holiday happiness: Boy saves dad's life

By Bob Slatt
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Bob Cox family of 4101 Rode Ave. has a lot to be thankful for this holiday season.

On Nov. 21, the day before Thanksgiving, Jason Cox, 12, saved his father, Bob, 33, plant manager at Diamond Plating Co. in Madison, from choking to death.

According to Jason, "We were just sitting around watching television and eating Chinese food. Dad was on the couch, eating shrimp."

"He started coughing, which isn't too unusual. But then he stopped coughing and started changing colors. I thought, 'You can't die before Thanksgiving.'"

"So I just did it." What Jason "just did" was administer the Heimlich maneuver, which he had learned in his sixth grade health class at Mitchell Elementary School last year, to his father.

Jason said, "I remembered it so well because Mr. Kindle (Jason's teacher) used me for an example when he demonstrated it (the Heimlich maneuver) in class."

Paul Kindle, who has taught at Mitchell for five years, is mayor of Roxana and a past volunteer firefighter. He said that he teaches the maneuver each year to his health class.

"When I found out it was used to save a life, well, it has made it very rewarding," Kindle said. Jason's mother, Becky, said she is thankful that Jason had the presence of mind not to panic.

"I panicked," she related. "I was so flustered I couldn't find the phone number to call an ambulance. If Jason hadn't done what he did, who knows?"

She said that about three minutes elapsed from the time her husband started coughing until he regained consciousness.

Kindle said irreversible damage begins to occur after about five minutes of unconsciousness. Cox fully recovered and it was not necessary to summon an ambulance.

He is mighty proud of Jason, who currently attends Grigsby Junior High School.

The student is on the football and wrestling teams, and collects baseball cards as a hobby. He said that Kindle was his favorite teacher.

Jason's brother Jeremy, 10, is currently a student of Kindle's. Becky Cox said that it was unusual for her sons to be home at the time of the incident, because they attend church on Wednesday evenings.

"But for some reason they stayed at home that night," she said.

Bob Cox is thankful as well.

Girl Scout Council executive to retire

Donna J. Lowry, executive director of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, will retire on Dec. 31.

Lowry has served in that position for the past 11 years and has led a six-county area in making many changes.

"Under the direction of Lowry, the River Bluffs Council has constructed a new service center, which is debt-free, and has increased its self-sufficiency fund 278 percent. Membership has grown, and the number of minority girls and adults has increased dramatically," an official said.

"In addition, Lowry's foresight helped initiate a camp development plan for years to come."

Lowry's Girl Scout involvement began in 1955 as her daughter's troop leader in the Kickapoo Council in Peoria. During her 14 years of volunteer work in the Kickapoo Council, she served on several council committees and as a board member.

Her professional association with Girl Scouting also began in the Kickapoo Council.

In the early 1970s, Lowry held a number of positions in that council, including serving as office manager, field advisor, director of program services, director of public relations and then director of field services.

In 1977, she became the executive director of the Two Rivers Girl Scout Council in Quincy.

She began her tenure as executive director in the River Bluffs Council in 1979.

According to Lowry, "Probably the most important goal of Girl Scouting to the girls, their families, and the community is our focus on helping girls improve their self-esteem."

Lack of self-esteem is found to be one of the chief contributing factors in drug abuse,

Donna Lowry
... will retire

unwanted pregnancy, and crime.

"Girl Scouting is an important prevention program," Lowry feels that volunteers of organizations such as Girls Scouts can help build a girl's self-esteem, thereby making her a better member of society.

In her honor, the Donna J. Lowry Fund for Volunteer Development has been established to provide additional resources so that volunteers will have more opportunities for advanced training.

This will enable River Bluffs to provide girls with role models for a successful experience in Girl Scouting.

To make a contribution to this fund, people may call the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council at (618) 692-0692.

McDonald's treats children

GRANITE CITY — Children treated in the Emergency Room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center will receive a special gift from the nearby McDonald's Restaurant at 21st Street and Madison Avenue.

Toys from Happy Meals will be given to each child to help ease the tension that sometimes accompanies a visit to the ER.

"This will help calm down children who are upset, or just help them feel better about their trip to the Emergency Room," said Paula Brewer, the restaurant's activities representative.

"I love children, and we thought this would be a good way to get more involved in the community," she said.

"After all, that's where we take our children for care. We really appreciate the work the nurses and doctors do, and this is one way we can express it."

The restaurant is also donating toys to SEMC's Child Development Program to be incorporated into the incentive program. The toys will serve as prizes in competitive games or as rewards when the children earn them.

The children's artwork was displayed for Thanksgiving in the dining area of the restaurant, and the children plan to make Christmas drawings as well.

"Our customers just love to go over and admire the pictures. It has gone over so well that we hope to do it more often," Brewer said.

Man, 44, wins $550,000 due to injury

On Nov. 30, after a five-day trial, a Madison County Circuit Court judge awarded $550,000 to James Ashenbrenner, a 44-year-old railroad worker, for an injury he sustained while employed by the Illinois Central Railroad.

Ashenbrenner had been exposed to sulfur fumes while welding on railroad tank cars in 1986. He developed asthma-like symptoms and could no longer work.

The railroad alleged that Ashenbrenner's problems were related to asthma and not his employment.

Christmas program set at Faith Chapel

Members of Faith Chapel General Baptist Church, 664 Ashland Ave., Mitchell, will present their annual Christmas Program on Sunday, Dec. 16, beginning at 6 p.m. Youth of the church will open with a presentation, titled "Christmas Cheer." The adults will present a play, "Why Christmas?" written by the Rev. Don Gaines, pastor.

Maxine Duniphan

Chouteau Township Clerk Pat Polley is announcing the township's 12th annual Christmas Party and Breakfast with Santa will be held Saturday, Dec. 15, at the Township Social Center, 906 N. Thorngate Drive. The doors will open at 9 a.m., with Santa Claus arriving at 9:30. Polley said, Santa will have treats for the youngsters. Milk, doughnuts, chocolate, coffee and orange juice will be served. Entertainment will include seasonal music played by the Joey James Orchestra. Mothers are invited to bring their own camera to photograph their children with Santa.

Leland and Donna Crites and daughters, Laura and Amy, of University Drive entertained out-of-town guests over the Thanksgiving Day weekend. On Saturday, they also hosted the Slater family reunion for members of Donna (Slater) Crites' family. Attending were all five of Donna Crites' siblings and their grandmother, Lena Buckingham. It was the first time in 14 years that three of the Slater children had seen each other. Several nieces and nephews, ranging from 5 months to 12 years, had never seen their aunts and uncles before. Among those attending were Donna Crites' two brothers, Dr. Gary Slater, his wife, Nancy, and children, Aaron, Sarah, Jill, Richie, Summer, Paul and Ashley, all of Champaign, and Jerry Slater of Kansas City, Kan. Her three sisters, Phyllis Helvey, her husband, Dennis, and sons, Brian and Steven, of Murphysboro; Wanda Bauer and daughter, Aissa, of Granite City; and Linda Preuss, her husband, George, and son, Josiah, of Kansas City, Kan. Others attending were Connie and Samantha Downs, Betty Richardson and Marvin Buckingham and son, Marvin Jr.

Over the Thanksgiving Day weekend, Arlene Hickam of Lewis Avenue had as guests her brother and sister-in-law, Roy and Irene Eaton, and daughters, Joanna Eaton and Beth Klamekus, and the latter's husband, Scott, all of Jackson, Mich. Hickman and her guests had Thanksgiving Day dinner at the home of Arlene and Roy's sister, Marie Burris in Madison. Most of the day was spent looking at photographs retrieved from an old trunk belonging to the late Judy Eaton, the mother of Arlene, Roy and Marie. Family members took several photographs. A visit to Union Station and dinner at a Fairview Heights restaurant were enjoyed the next day.

Pearl Turner of Patricia Drive accompanied by a relative from Cottage Hills, traveled to Somerset, Ky., for the Thanksgiving Day weekend to visit her mother, Helen Crouch, and brother, Charlie. The family was joined at the Crouch home by brother, Billy Crouch and his wife, Ann, Lawrenceville, Ga., their daughter and son-in-law, Beth and Tony Collins from Seville, Ga., and Turner's sister, Delta Sandler and husband, James, of Somerset.

Elman Crites, a former area resident, is a patient at Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau, Mo., where he underwent heart surgery last week. Crites and his wife, Pearlene, resided in the 500 block of East Chain of Rocks Road before moving to Bloomfield, Mo., a few years ago.

DON'T PAY DOUBLE TAX ... SHOP AT HOME

Part of every dollar you spend goes to pay for community services and benefits ... wherever you shop.

When you shop at home in your local stores, part of your dollars go to pay tax-supported services and benefits at home. If you shop in some other city you pay for those services and benefits there.

The worst part is that when you shop out of town you still have to pay your share of those services at home too.

Don't double up your expenses ... Shop At Home.

Arsonists

Continuously setting fires, however, can be a sign of serious psychological problems. It can also lead to or accompany other criminal behavior, authorities say.

To help determine these problems, the program also includes interviews with the child, his parents, and a questionnaire filled out by the parents to provide information about the child's behavior.

In serious cases, children would be referred for counseling. Dawes said some parents may be hesitant to cooperate, leading to graver consequences.

"There's always the threat of restitution (for fire-damaged property) and juvenile system difficulties that could follow," Dawes said.

Steve Bowker, superintendent of the juvenile detention center, said arson is not a factor in the incarceration of 24 youths currently in custody there.

"Some of them have had in their backgrounds, though," Bowker said.

Dawes said he is uncertain what the program will ultimately cost or how many departments will be involved.

Dawes has spoken with Capt. John Sowder, Alton Fire Department, who suggested that Madison County be divided into two halves, with Granite City training firefighters in the southern half and Alton training these in the northern half.

Dawes said he hopes to begin setting up the program with the help of Urbana Assistant Fire Chief Bob Pettyjohn early in 1991.

scored very high on a promotion examination, had cheated with Partney's help.

In January 1988, a Madison County grand jury issued felony indictments charging all three with official misconduct. Those indictments were withdrawn by Assistant State's Attorney Rich Rybak at separate pre-trial hearings five months later because of "technical" flaws.

In July 1988, Special Prosecutor Clyde Kuehn issued felony informations charging all three with conspiracy and official misconduct. A month later, the day the trial was set to begin, Kuehn voluntarily acted to have the charges dismissed because he lacked "sufficient competent or reliable evidence" to prosecute the case.

County multiplier 1.0; townships' fate unknown

EDWARDSVILLE — Property taxes in Madison County won't jump under a tentative state multiplier factor, but one county official is sounding a note of caution.

Each year the Illinois Department of Revenue assigns equalization factors, commonly known as multipliers, to each county. The factors are designed to equalize real estate assessment levels among the counties.

Madison County has received a tentative 1990 property tax assessment multiplier of 1.0. But that doesn't mean there won't be township multipliers, Debbie Ming, chief deputy supervisor of assessments, said.

A county multiplier of less than 1.0 indicates assessments are higher than the required 33.33 percent of fair market value, while a multiplier greater than 1.0 indicates assessments are too low. A multiplier of 1.0 indicates assessments are within 1 percent of the mandated level.

But Ming noted there are significant differences among the county's 24 townships. Township assessments range from 31.65 percent to 37.89 percent, she said. "None is at 33.33 percent."

The Department of Revenue has calculated Madison County's overall assessment level at 32.87 percent, Ming said.

The tentative multiplier is based on 1990 assessments before the county Board of Review began hearing several thousand assessment objections, she said. Changes by the board could alter the overall level of assessments, she said.

Ming said another problem is that six townships are not represented in property sales data the countywide multiplier is based on. The multiplier is based only on sales in the townships where there were more than 25 sales annually in 1987, 1988 and 1989.

The Board of Review will assign multipliers to each township, member Kerry Miller said. Those multipliers are designed to equalize assessment levels among the townships and to ensure that the county receives a final multiplier of 1.0.

Sports

Madison football Coach Don Smith said, "It's getting tougher for small schools to provide certain programs for the kids. The financial burden is becoming too great for some schools to support."

"A move like this will give these kids an opportunity to get involved. It's a move to give the kids ... an opportunity to participate."

The program, first introduced by Madison High School Principal Bob Meheic, is designed to form cooperative sports teams at virtually no extra cost to either district.

The responsibility for hiring coaches and officials, and for providing appropriate facilities and equipment, will remain with the host school.

The cooperating school will be responsible for providing transportation to the host school for practices and games.

Venice will absorb the cost of football insurance for players from Venice High School.

If additional costs are incurred in a cooperative sport as the result of a substantial increase in participation, schools will share the cost of hiring an additional coach, on a pro-rata basis.

Each host school will retain its own name and mascot. For example, Madison students will play on the Venice Red Devils baseball team.

Participation is limited to sports. Privileges will not be extended to other school activities (such as homecoming) with the exception of participation in sports banquets.

Madison School Superintendent Dan Kostenick said he feels the program will be beneficial to athletes at both high schools, who might otherwise be unable to participate.

Kostenick said the next step is to seek the approval of opposing schools on the sports schedules of the two schools. He said he hopes the program is implemented in time for the spring sports season.

Warriors take charge early, blast Belleville East 79-58

By Scott Marion
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — Bill Ohlendorf was nervous Friday. But his team helped him relax.

"I'm glad to get this one under our belts," the Warrior basketball coach said after a 79-58 win at Belleville East. "Our coaching staff was worried about this game. But the kids came out with a lot of intensity and took it to them."

Granite City (2-1 overall, 1-0 in the Southwestern Conference) had a 19-point halftime lead and led by more than 30 points in the second half. Brian Smith led the Warriors with 21 points and 11 rebounds. Twin brother Jeff was sitting out the last of a three-game suspension.

"Unless (Jeff) is sick or injured, I'm glad to see him without him," said Ohlendorf, whose team lost two close games to East last season. "The other kids did a good job of picking up the slack."

The game was a step backward for East (0-3, 0-1). Coach Jim Reynolds felt his team had played well in a 74-66 loss at Carbondale on Nov. 30.

"We've got a lot of young kids, so it's going to be like riding a roller coaster," Reynolds said. "Tonight we were down. We were very out of synch. Our biggest problem is that we can't guard anybody. I give credit to Granite City. They just dominated us with their aggressiveness."

Granite City led 22-15 after one quarter and began to pull away in the second quarter. A pair of baskets by Jay Robertson increased the Warriors' lead to 39-16. A shot by Smith, with a nifty pass from Raffi Karibian, made the score 41-22 at halftime.

"We were having one or two defensive breakdowns every trip down the floor," Reynolds said.

Things got worse for the Lakers in the third quarter. Granite

City had its biggest lead at 58-26 on a basket by Bob Thomas and took a 66-37 lead into the final quarter.

"We were able to get Brian Smith the ball early in the third quarter," Ohlendorf said. "That resulted in some baskets and got (East's 6-6 Gary) Sney into foul trouble. At no time was (Sney) a big factor. He had been in their early games."

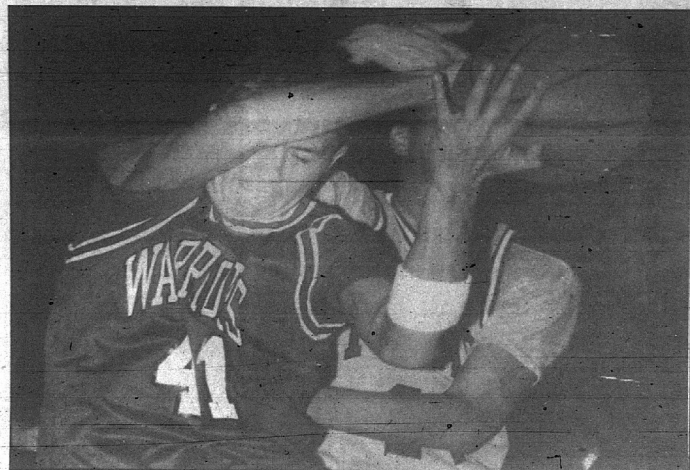

Sney was held to 11 points after getting 27 points and 10 rebounds against Carbondale.

"We tried to go inside to Gary," Reynolds said. "They were collapsing on him and double- and triple-teaming him. The refs let them back and slap, so we tried to go back outside. But we weren't shooting very well."

Sophomore Robb Hill, with 11 points, was the only other East player in doubles figures. The Warriors, meanwhile, got 15 points and eight assists from Robertson and 16 points from Thomas.

"We got some contributions off the bench," Ohlendorf said. "Jeff Stephens gave us some

Wrestlers 8-0 after beating CM, Flyers

By Brian Henry

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Warrior wrestling team continued its dominating ways with dual meet wins Thursday over Civic Memorial (40-17) and Friday over East St. Louis (47-10).

"It's a good way to start the season," said Mike Garland after his team improved to 8-0. "But I'd trade them for a regional championship, a sectional championship and a berth at state."

Granite City put the Flyers away early by winning seven of the first eight matches. Pat Scheffer had the quick pin of the night at 103 pounds when he dropped Calvin Caster in only 1:15. Jeff Heuschman finished off that stretch with a win over Marion Samuels at 145.

"Pat has done extremely well and Jeff has come around better than I thought," said Garland. "The kids who were question marks before the season have come through also."

After Fred Barry beat Scott Simon at 152, the Warriors got (See WRESTLE, Page 4B)

Trojans get by Alton despite depth problems

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

ALTON — The old saying is that there's strength in numbers. But the opposite might have been true for the Trojans on Friday.

Because of grades and missed practices, Madison didn't have its usual depth for its game with the Alton Redbirds. But the available players banded together and came away with a 71-64 victory, improving the Trojans to 3-0 heading into Saturday's home opener against Hillsboro.

"This might have unified us," said Trojan coach Al Collins. "We pulled together as a team. We talked before the game about how some guys had

Madison led by as much as 19 points in the third quarter, but the Redbirds (3-3) heading into Saturday's game at Collinsville got hot in the fourth quarter and made it interesting. They got to within six on Justin Holloway's shot. (See MADISON, Page 4B)

Lady Warriors use everyone in 57-34 win over Riverview

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — If nothing else, the Lady Warriors' 57-34 blowout of Riverview Gardens on Thursday gave Allen Laddell a chance to see all of his players in varsity action.

"All 11 players who suited up saw time on the court. Ten of them scored, with freshman Jamie Cavaness leading the way with 14 points and six blocked shots."

"I think I've got some people to replace my seniors (next year)," said Laddell. "The more I see of them, the more comfortable I am."

The Gang of Seven stormed into town asking tough questions. Thirty-million-dollar questions.

"This is final," says Sheila Walker, the U.S. Olympic Committee's Sports Festival director and a key member of the USOC Gang of Seven. "We're down to the details of how you're going to make this successful."

If that sounds official, if that sounds final, it's only because it is.

St. Louis' bid to host one of the USOC's almost-annual splash-and-dash bashes was made Friday. By the time Walker and her USOC pals were trotted out to St. Louis Soccer Park for gin fizzes and finger foods, all of the No. 2 pencils had been put down and the tests passed forward to the proctors. Time was up.

Judgment Day's not too far off," says Mike Dyer, executive director of the St. Louis Sports Committee.

True. And false. True, the final word on which of the five contending cities will win the right to hold the 1993, 1994 and 1995 Sports Festivals won't come until Feb. 1. And true, St. Louis, Denver, Baltimore, Miami and San Antonio will get one more shot to wow the Gang of Seven.

But the final go-around presentations the day before the hammer comes down on this deal typically is 30 minutes of high-tech, rah-rah and glitz. Glitz is grand for peddling beer, soap and congressional yahoos. But Walker says she can't recall a single instance of a final presentation swaying the site selection committee.

What went down Friday was grit. And grit, not glitz, will tell the tale.

So what will it tell here? Dyer has been the wheelman for the St. Louis operation since it began nearly two years ago. Even this deep into the thing, he admits to having little sense of what the USOC will say on Feb. 1. The best he can come up with is, "I still think we're in the middle of it; we're in the hunt."

In the hunt, yes; in the swim, no.

While there are a number of top-notch aspects to the St. Louis bid to play daddy to the 4,000 athletes — and the $30 million — a Sports Festival would bring to town, the region is all wet when it comes to swimming.

"We have a couple of gaps (in the proposal)," Dyer admits. "Most cities have gaps and ours is the swimming and diving facilities."

Most of us get along swimmingly without an Olympic-sized anything, let alone a 50-meter pool. Given a choice between a pool and a couple free-agent signees by the Cardinals, most of us would go for the free agents.

But the Sports Festival people already are where most of us will be next summer: They don't care about the Cardinals. However, they do care about a decent facility for one of their high-profile events. Laps across the Meramec won't cut it with the USOC.

"I won't kid anybody," says Dyer. "The swimming and diving facility is important. It's not like saying we don't have a white-water kayaking course."

"They have clout," he said about the swimming lobby inside the USOC.

That said, let it also be said that there remains some hope. The reason: The USOC, while in the business of wangling the best host cities can offer, has this thing about leaving something in its wake besides a lot of economic impact and a few yellowing headlines.

Walker considers the upgrading, renovating and construction of public facilities to be the Sports Festival's legacy in the communities it visits. She's quick to point to the benefits Indianapolis continues to receive from the facilities it built or upgraded for the 1982 Sports Festival.

St. Louis is awash in plans, yak, hopes, studies, surveys and promises. What needs jump starting around here isn't so much facilities as hearts and imaginations. Once those get started, the rest will follow.

And so will big-ticket items like the Olympic Sports Festival. (Dennis Barnidge is a sports columnist for the Suburban Journal.)

basket with 15 seconds left, then Andre Mays (16 points) threw away the inbound pass. But K.C. Doucette, who had 11 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter, missed a three-pointer and Antonio Smith made one of two free throws to ice the victory.

"We got a little lachrymose when we got the lead," said Collins. "We didn't exactly go into a stall, but we spread out and got into a man-to-man offense. We missed a couple of easy baskets and couldn't hit our free throws."

Once again the Trojans' pressure proved beneficial as they forced numerous Alton turnovers in the first three quarters. Mays' three-pointer at the buzzer gave Madison a 17-12 lead after one quarter. Willie Woodard had six points in the first half as the Trojans led 37-26 at halftime.

"We're a streaky team," said Alton coach Stan McAlfoos. "I really wasn't displeased with our defense in the first half although they got 37 points. We just gave them 10 points they never should have had with some giveaways on offense. We didn't take care of the ball like we should have against a quick team like Madison."

Antonio Smith (14 points) had a dunk on Brennan Wimberly's pass and Wimberly followed with a layup of his own to give the Trojans a 49-30 lead. The Redbirds slowly got back into it in the fourth quarter behind the shooting of Doucette and the spark of David Quigley, who had 15 points.

"David is a good little worker," said McAlfoos of his 5-5 guard. "We told him this would be one of the few games when he would have a size advantage against Wimberly."

But the Trojans managed to hang on despite not having Chris Griggs. Cernyn Macon, Lowell Newsome and Ron Lott available because of grades. Federico Walker missed practice on Thursday and Collins held him out of the game.

"(Sophomore) Ron Williams gave us a good game," said Collins. "He had a little attitude problem in the junior varsity game. I had to choose between him and Walker to play. If we weren't desperate for players, I wouldn't have played him at all. I knew it wouldn't make Walker happy, but that was my intention. He has to come to practice."

NOTES: The Trojans host Springfield Catvay on Friday. The game was originally scheduled for Jan. 15.

"I have to give a lot of credit to my assistants for our start," said Garland. "The wrestlers themselves have been dedicated on and off the mat. They have kept their grades up and, with that, they have been able to concentrate on wrestling that much more."

The Warriors are idle until Saturday when they face Belleville West, the No. 1 team in the Journal coaches poll, in the Springfield Tournament. The Maroons have lost only once (to Edwardsville) and appear to be the main threat to Granite City's chances for a conference title.

playing when you go against a team with no height."

Granite City led 33-11 at halftime and Riverview was never within 20 points in the second half. The junior varsity played virtually the whole fourth quarter.

"Last year we had bad stretches against lesser teams," said Lobdell. "Tonight we were able to keep everything tight and not let the game get sloppy. I'm proud of the girls for staying in control."

"We set some goals for ourselves coming in," said Rogenhofer. "We wanted to win, hold them under 70 and score over 30. That we were able to get more than 30 is a big step for us."

Thursday's game was the last home game for the Lady Warriors until Jan. 22. Granite City plays at Belleville East on Tuesday and East St. Louis on Thursday.

"We're going to have to play team ball next week," Lobdell said. "We've got two good games under our belts. It's going to be fun."

NOTES: The junior varsity won 38-12 after leading 32-0 at halftime. Karen Sykes, who had played every minute of the first five games, got a well-deserved rest when she exited at 5:01 of the second quarter after scoring four points. In other girls action Thursday, Madison lost its third straight game and fell to 1-3 with a 74-60 loss to Cahokia. Katrina Garrett led the Trojannes with 27 points.

The Warriors shot 54 percent from the field against the Lancers, including an 18-for-28 performance in the first half.

Bonds to provide more-convenient outpatient service

GRANITE CITY — St. Elizabeth Medical Center is talking about bonds again.

No, not Sarabond, the mortar additive that caused all the repair work to exterior walls last year. These bonds are designed to raise $6 million for the medical center and put SEMC in a position to react financially to future equipment and renovation needs as they develop.

"We are currently in the process of borrowing $6 million in the form of a tax-exempt bond issue," said Dennis Lutz, SEMC vice president of finance.

Lutz said access to capital for health care is becoming more difficult. The Internal Revenue Service is tightening the regulations involved in tax-exempt financing.

"Obviously, tax-exempt financing is preferable to simple financing, because the interest rate is much lower," he said. "What we're trying to do is strengthen our cash position, so we can expand and do the things we feel are necessary to enhance our position for the future."

SEMC is not actually issuing the bonds; that is being done by the Southwestern Illinois Development Authority, a state agency designed to develop and expand the Madison-St. Clair counties area by promoting new business and jobs. The authority issues bonds and then loans the money to area businesses and organizations.

"I thank the people at the Southwestern Illinois Development Authority for the work they have done with us, and for issuing the bonds on our behalf," Lutz said. "By going through them for the bonds, we assume their credit rating and thereby obtain a lower interest rate on the bonds."

The bonds are another form of debt. They are more formal in structure and the rules that govern them are more rigid than the rules on car or house loans.

The bonds will be issued in $5,000 amounts and will be tax-exempt. The interest rate has not yet been determined.

They will be sold through brokers to institutional investors, like insurance companies, and also to individual investors.

"What we anticipate doing with the money first of all, is reimburse ourselves for past capital expenditures. This means we basically pay ourselves back for past equipment purchases and put the funds back into our operating cash and investments," Lutz said.

"Some of the money will also go for future capital expenditures, so we can continue to provide quality care and keep our technology up-to-date."

The funds will also be used to upgrade St. Elizabeth's outpatient facilities. According to Lutz, outpatient services currently account for almost 28 percent of the medical center's total revenue.

"We are borrowing part of the funds to renovate this facility, so we can provide outpatient services more conveniently and effectively," Lutz said.

"That's keeping in line with the whole concept of outpatient services being the wave of the future."

"Our outpatient services are becoming a much larger part of our business, overall, and we need to provide that service conveniently."

The renovations will affect the ground floor corridor from Kaehder's Pavilion (the main lobby) to Pascal Hall.

The changes will enable patients to take care of most of their outpatient needs within that hallway area.

"The consumer, the patient, is top priority," Lutz said. "We want to have something like a one-stop shopping concept for our outpatient services."

Lutz estimates the borrowing will be concluded in early December. The public meeting required by the IRS was held in November and went smoothly.

"The proceeds of the bonds will allow us to maintain our high standard of quality care," Lutz said.

"We are prepared to meet the needs of the communities we serve as they grow and develop, with up-to-date technology and innovative services."

Boy Scout office to close

GRANITE CITY — The Boy Scouts of America office at 2012 Delmar Ave., Granite City, will officially close on Dec. 21.

The consolidation of the Cahokia Mound Council here and the Plaquemine Council will become effective Dec. 31. The Granite City building has been sold, and the move will be effected between Dec. 21 and Dec. 31.

The consolidated council will be called Trails-West and the offices will be at 1655 Harrison St., Wood River (258-2145).

The Trails West Council will serve all of Calhoun, Madison, Jersey, Bond, Greene and Macoupin counties. David Capstick will be Scout executive.

All of the Granite City service center staff will be relocated at Wood River, along with most of the Plaquemine Council staff.

The Unihw District appreciation dinner for Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell area Scouts will be held Jan. 4 at the Granite City Township Building, 2089 Delmar Ave., Granite City.

This dinner, the final Unihw event of the 1990 year, will pay tribute to the volunteers of this area for their loyalty and dedication during 1990 and past years.

A reception for "old timers" will begin at 6 p.m. and all former Unihw volunteers are invited to attend and reminisce. A "show and tell" is planned including old-time scrapbooks, mementos and photos. Floyd Jordan Jr. will be coordinating the oldsters' get-together.

Tickets and reservations may be obtained by contacting Floyd Jordan at 931-2897; Charlotte Charbonnier, Unihw District chairman, at 2775 Madison Ave. 876-3313; or, until Dec. 21, Wilma Tongay at the Boy Scout Service Center in Granite City, 876-0686.

The Unihw District has 354 registered adult volunteers and 1,077 registered Boy Scout (pack, troop and post) members.

Channel 4 news ratings closing in on 5

The folks at KMOV-TV (Channel 4) claim to be very happy with the Nielsen ratings for November because they have managed to bring two of their major newscasts within shouting distance of longtime leader KSDK-TV (Channel 5). And they apparently owe at least part of their success to, of all things, the Phoenix Cardinals. More on that later.

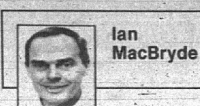

Although Channel 5, for years one of the most dominant stations in the country, still leads with its newscast at 10 p.m., Channel 4 has gradually reduced its deficit to 2 rating points — an enormous improvement over its showing two years ago, when Channel 4 was 7 rating points behind.

For those readers just tuning in, ratings are not a measure of the quality of programming — obviously, a subjective judgment. They are merely an objective measurement of the number of people watching a program. Rating equals the percent of homes in the St. Louis area watching a particular program. Share equals the percent of homes which are actually using television watching a particular program.

News departments compete desperately for ratings because journalists are competitive by nature, and advertisers pay more for commercial time if more people are watching.

It would be nice to tell you that viewers are tuning in Channel 4 in greater numbers because the station is rewarding them with high-quality journalism. Unfortunately, that is not the case. What continues to pass for news on Channels 4 and 5 generally is some mix of violence, sex and the day's weirdness. And that clearly is what a majority of viewers is seeking.

Channel 2, which generally eschews the constantly recycled stories of murder, mayhem and marital dysfunction, battered again with miserable ratings. Ironically, the best numbers that Channel 2 could muster during a major "news-time" were produced by "Current Affair," which the station programs at 6 p.m. instead of doing a newscast.

The Channel 2 newscast at 5 p.m. actually came in fourth in its time period, losing out to "The Cosby Show" on KDDL-TV (Channel 30), which got a 7 rating, 12 share.

And what has the Cardinals, the late and occasionally lamented football team, which once fouled the turf at Busch Stadium, got to do with Channel 4's news ratings?

With the season drawing to a close, and, not coincidentally, with the rating period almost complete, Channel 4 announced that its decision to carry Cardinals games would be based on the results of a highly unscientific "call-in" vote.

You may be astonished to find out that the ratings for those newscasts were quite high. And, for one of them, the 10 p.m. news on Nov. 20 did a 26 rating — 8 points higher than the 10 p.m. news the previous Tuesday. That increase alone is enough to significantly affect the entire rating period.

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.
